

Please find the correct Designer size chart for your order. Use your bust, waist, and hip measurements to help you determine the size you need. It is pretty common to not be straight across the chart, but depending on the style of the dress it is almost always safest to go with the largest size you are measuring as alterations can be done to take in other areas. For example, if your bust is a size 2 but your waist is a size 6, the safest size to go with is the 6 to make sure the dress fits properly in the waist.
